

Channels of Love

Sometimes love is hard to achieve when you're out when you feed them may be all you can do with no doubt

Feed me will you feed me please me I'll yearn for your soulfood someday yeah someday

I can feel it from above when you act through channels of love seed is sown and deed is done when all is sent through channels of love

Gentle touches found tough to transmit when not learned soft embracements embarrassing though maybe earned

Feel me can you feel me give me, I'll translate cash to love 'cause I've learned yes I've learned

I can feel it from above
when you act through channels of love
when all is sent through channels of love

Sometimes love is hard to explain when you hurt strange attention found pleasing though it might seem absurd so absurd

I can feel it from above when we act through channels of love seed is sown and deed is done
when all is sent through channels of love
