

One man show

A tidy home in a well-known place
Nothing here seems to be strange
All the people 'round you are so nice looks like a pretty little paradise

A carefree world in a golden cage
Everyday's like on a TV - stage
It's alright if you play the game
Knowin' nothin' 'bout your fame

Welcome to your one man show
Hope your dreams will all come true
Welcome to your one man show
Where everyone's watching you

Every night and every day
You're well displayed on a silver tray
They made your life into a daily soap
Let all of their dreams come true

Welcome to your one man show...

They seem to love you since your first glimpse of light
And make you live a grand illusion
They like to watch on open circuit TV
And you're unaware that you're the superstar

Welcome to your one man show...
